WHAT THE SILVER LOBBY HAS bery. BEEN DOING.

Views of Leading Democrats and Republicans -- Work of the "Bimetallic League."

| CORRESPONDENCE OF THE APPRALL! WARRINGTON, April 22.—"There has sen here this winter," said Representative Cutcheon, Republican, "from the day that Congress met, the most powerful lobby in the interest of the ilver-mine owners that I have ever known in Washington, with possibly one excepti n-the lobby in the interest of the bonded whisky bill in the last Congress. There is no mo-nopoly in this country to-day more absolute than the silver mine mo-nopoly; and the passage of this free coinage bill, in my opinion, would have been absolutely valueless to the people but would have put tens of millions of dollars into the hands of the silver bullion and mine owners. From the very first day of this Congress this silver lebby has maintained an organization here called the 'Bimetallic League,' and has bad its headquarters in the Parific building on F street, with a literar bureau engaged in turning out literature in the interest of free coinage for the benefit of the silver bull-ionis. Every member of Congress has been literally bombarded with this kind of literature ever since Conse met, I am in favor of equ l ights for equal dollars. But I am not in favor of a bill to put millions of dollars into the hands of the mine

CONGRESSOIAN FISHER'S VIEWS. I voted on my own convictions, and I believe that when the people understand the question they will see it as I do."said Representative Fisher, the only one of the seven Democratic members from Michigan who voted against the free coinage bill. "Talk against the free coinage bill. "Talk about your Goulds and Vanderbilts." exclaimed Mr. Fisher. "Look at these silver millionaires, like Senators Hearst, Stanford, Sharon, Fair and Jones, and others of their stamp. Do the people of this country want to pour any more money in o the coffers of these men by a free coinage act like the one we have just defeated?"

"There was demagogery and hypocrisy on the floor of the House when the vote was taken on that bill," continned Mr Fisher "Men came to me and said: 'You are right. We know we ought to vote as you do, and we would if we thought there was any danger that the bill would pass. But our retention in Congress depends to a certain extent on our supporting this bill; and we shall therefore vote for it, even though we do not believe it is for the interest of our constituents that the bill should pass.'

"A good many people seem to think that free coinage means free dollars," said Mr. Fisher. "But they would find that the dollars would go into the hands of the mine-owners, and it would be just as hard as ever for the laboring man to get them. These silver bullionists are making a cat's paw of the laboring men. The other day I got a monster petition signed by Michigan Knights the Labor p ay ng for free coinage. Where do you suppose it came from? It was got up, printed and sent out by the silver mine monopolists. It was mailed at Leadville, Colo. Cannot the laboring men see what these monopolists are after?"

SILVER CERTIFICATES.

There is a strong sent ment among the men who voted, at the same time, against coinage and against free coin-age, in favor of a bill to prov de that the United States sub-treasuries shall receive on deposit all silver bullion from American mines and issue there for silver certificates of small denominations, for the market value of the bullion. This would give the country a convenient paper currency, ased on coin. It is not unlikely that some plan of this sort will be adopted at the next session of Congress, though probably no at this session.

MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING.

Probable Death of a Prominent Texas Cythiau.

TMESELL, TEX., April 23, - The Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias has been in session here since Wednesday morning. At 9 o'clock yesterday morning, in a room in Harris's Hotel, W. Alexander Abey, the retiring Grand Chancellor of Texas, shot himself with a pistol, the ball entering his breast just to the left of the heart. There is much mystery surrounding the affa r, and it is not certain whether the shooting was accidental or suicidal Abey is a prominent lawyer of Long View, and has occupied the highest offices in the Knights of Pythias order in Texas. Joseph R. Clemans, who was just elected Grand Master of the Exchequer, was in the room at the time of the shooting. Clemans and Abey have been warm friends for many years. Clemens says that Abey met him yesterday morning and asked whether he (Clemans) could lend him a good pistol, as his (Abey's) was out of order. Clemans said that his pis-tol was in his value at the hotel, and together they repaired to the room. While Clemans ws getting his re-volver from his valise Abey Abey was sitting on the edge of the bed. Clemans was suddenly startled by the report of a pistol, and turning, saw Abey gasping on the bed, his weapon on the floor. For several years Abey has had a feud with P. S. Aren, County Clerk of Galveston county, a preminent Knight of Pythias, who is in attendance at the convention. The theory is that Abey, in view of the possibility of meeting Aren, desired to be well-armed, and that he was examining the arms were not were it was dishis own weapon w en it was dis-charged. The shooting occasioned much excitement. Abey is very low, and there is very little chance for his Shortly after he shooting he sent for Aren, but what passed be-tween them at the bedside is not known For a number of years Abey was editor of the Longview Democrat, retiring recently. There are many be-lievers in the suicide theory, but the ctive for self-destruction remains

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER merly lived together as man and wife.

Last Tuesday Burt was released from the Eastern Penitentiary after serving an imprisonment of two years for rob-bery. This morning he visited the woman in her room, and accused her of being unfaithful to him. A quarrel ensued, in the course of which he drew a revolver and fired five shots at her, two of which took effect, one in her head and the other in her arm Burt fled, but was botly pursued, and he finally sought refuge in a police where he was promptly

ATTACKS ON GLADSTONE'S HOME RULE BILL.

Lord Selbourne's Letter to the "Times"-He Declares the Measure to He Hopelessly Faulty.

London, April 23.—Lord Selbourne, Liberal, in a letter to the Times, at tacks certain features of Mr. Glad-stone's home rule bill. He pronounces the measure hopelessly faulty from the fact that not one of the restric-tions provided except from the powers of the proposed Irish Legislature any matter relating to the lives, liberties and properties of the Queen's Irish subjects. The magistrates, the judges and the police in Ireland, says Lord Selbourne, will be the servants of the Dublin government, Referring to the fact that Mr. Gladstone's measure excludes from the powers of the Irish Legislature all matters relating to the army and navy, Lord Selbourne says there is still no rea on why a volunteer Irish army cannot be raised without passing a bill. Lord Selbourne also strongly attacks the land-purchase bill. He asks, upon the ground £150,000,-000 will be required to buy out the Irish landlerds, how the sharers in the first £50,000,000 provided are to be selected, and what position those landlords who may happen to be excluded from the first sales will thereafter occupy, first, with respect to the collection of their rants, and second, with regard to prospects of being bought out at all? Does Mr. Gladstone, he asks, expect that these landlords will have their rents paid in the meentime? What security is there that any future government after Mr. Gladstone's will pass an act to add £100,000,000 to the national debt in order to do justice to the re-maining landlords of Ireland, when, in the meantime, the government of Ireland has passed into the hands of the Nationalists and a great experiment which has already cost £500,-000,000 has proven a failure. If the question is one of public honor, jus-tice and good faith, provision ought to be made now to discharge the whole obligation; otherwise it is a cruel mockery toward the landlords.

The letter concludes with the statement that the writer is not surpised that Mr. Gladstone's friends are ad-vising him to drop the land bill alto-

LIKE A LOTTERY TICKET.

ROB PANELE TRIC STO E WAS REGARDED

By Mr. Garland and Wr. Young-Testimony of Architect Clarke and Representative Dunn.

Washington, April 23.—When the Telephone Investigating Committee met to-day Architect Clark testified that Senator Harris had told h m that it would be gratifying to him (the Senator) if young Rogers were ap-pointed as electrician of the House, but when witness told him of the reason why the appointment should not be made, the Senator thanked him for speaking plainly about the matter. Witness had spoken to Mr. Young about the application (as that gentleman was a member of the committee to which the resolution had been referred), and he had merely said, "well," when the matter was explained. Witness had also talked with Senator Garland about the Rogers telephone, which he was anxious to have put in the Capitol, and had told him he must apply to the President pro tempore of the Senate. Witness had talked with Senator Harris and also Messrs. Stockslager, Reese and Keenan of the Public Buildings Committee about the application, and had told him that if the appointments were made, it might produce a scandal similar to the Credit Mobilier affair, because four of the eight members of the company were members of Convress. He had also told Senator Harris that his political or busines opponents would be sure to take dvantage of it, and that gentleman had thanked him, saying that it had never appeared to him in that light. The Speaker of the House had also pproved the witness' rejection of the application, when a similar explana-tion was under to him. The witness had received a letter from Dr. Rogers, announcing that he would be pleased to have him accept $10,000 in tele-phone stock, but witness had declined the gift, because he did not regard it as proper for him to connect himself with any electrical company.

MR. DUNN OF ARKANSAS was the next witness, and said that he made some inquiries during the Forty-seventh Congress about the Pan-Electrie, as some of his personal friends were connected with that company. He found that he could not buy the stock, as the company declined to sell pending the decision of the courts of the question of infringement. He afterward learned that Rogers and Looney were willing to sell their stock, but he concluded not to invest in it. Both Senator Garland and Mr. Young had advised him to invest no money in the stock. Senator Garland had said the stock was like a lottery ticket, and expressed the opinion that while all other paterts might fall in a contest with the Bell patent on the question of infringement, yet the Pan-Electric patents might stand on one point, which he stated with distinctness, and he sustained his opinion with a citation of an authority

The committee then adjourned.
